

LOVE

It cannot be seen
It has to be felt
It cannot just last
It has to be nurtured,
If you love somebody,
You will forgive his/her faults
And sacrifice your pleasures
To give him/her happy thoughts
Life will be bliss
And your heartbeat will give a miss
You will travel that extra mile
Just to see that smile
Even when you become old
And the climate is cold,
The warmth of love you will feel,
In whatever engagement you may deal.
Be it siblings or spouses
May it bring happiness to your houses.
May your love last forever,
let your smile fade never,
May your love hold you together
Let it be an example for many others.
